PART OF THE PRICE OF

PROSPERITY. We pay a price for prosperity just as surely as some suffer inconvenlones and others saffer hardship when there is lack of activity in industry.

An increase in the number of industrial casualties invariably follows from the employment of more persons and in a ratio corresponding to the number employed. During the first four months of this year there were 20,000 more industrial accidents than during the same period of 1522. Sta-tistics available do not show the percentings of accidents to the number of persons employed, but it is to be presumed that it has been fairly constant. It is known, however, that when industrial operations are being run under high pressure more accidents occur because an increasing number of workers take risks while new employes have not yet learned the importance of practicing the rules of safety.

Of the 48,303 accidents in the first or the 48,303 accounts in the first quarter of this year 664 resulted fatally. The fatalties were less than one and one-half per cent of the whole number of casualties, but the ag-gregate is a beavy toil in human life. If the less had occurred in one or two accidents. Ike mine explosions, the public would have been herrified and great indignation would have been shown at what might have been alleged as carolessness on the part of ome person. Being distributed through several lines of industry and over all parts of the state the loss of 664 lives was practically unnoticed by the public. Only the communities in which they occurred had intimute knowledge of the circumstances and there the deaths were regarded more as incidents in the day to day experiences of the people than as part of the price they are paying to keep the wheels of industry speeding.

istic newspaper story, is the leading attraction today and temorrow at this It is comedy-drama pure and sim-ple, delightfully satirical in spots, with hundreds of laughs and just once in a white, say about overy thousand feet or so, a flush of a likeable old man, the editor of the country paner.

man, the sentoy of the country paper, which makes one swallow quickly.

Jess Robbins, whose production it is, named it "A Front Page Story," and it tells the "truth about John Gorham," Therein ites its rich meccess. The city of Durstine is an average American town, and the Gazette.

erage American town, and the Gazette is an average American paper; the characters are Americans, they come right out from among those who live about us and whom we know and whom we like and from among those we don't like too.

Too frequently when the screen attempts a newspaper story the atmosphere of the newspapers is fogged heyond recognition after the first recting a maze of crime or politics or society blackmail. "A Front Page Story" is a newspaper story, and cer-Story" is a newspaper story, and cer-tainly there is nothing, unless it its moving pictures, which is so close to the average audience as the newspaper of today. The story tells of the cantakerous quarreling that has extended over a generation between John Gorban. mayor of the town, and Mati flay-ward, the editor of the Gazette. Wednesday and Thursday, Helene Chadwick will be seen in "Ginune."

The Soisson

"THE FLIRT," Booth Tarking-tion's vivid cross-section of American home life, will be shown at this theatre for three days, beginning today. There are few persons who have not had a heart-breaking experience with a firt, because the species comes in both male and female form, hence there are few that will fail to underattend the psychology of Mr. Tarking-ton's story, and, if they are not now in the midst of a similar experience, to thoroughly enjoy each minute of the performance. Corn telerated her fam-ity. Her father was a shabby old felow who preferred to be hopest rather than rich, and her mother was a gentle old lady who would rather do the dishes herself than ask Cora to spoil her manicure: Then, too, there was Laura, the sister; Hun, the older brother; Hedrick, the little pest of a brother; Hedrick, the Hitle pent of a kid brother; Sam, the brother-in-law, who ceased being a plumber when Cora thought up the title, "Sanitary Engineer," and as many suitors as Cora could keep out of fist-lights on the veranda. It boasts a real alf-star cast, including Elleen Percy as the Flirting Cora; Helen Jeroma Eddy as the alder sister; George Nichols as the father; Lydia Knott us, the mother; Buddy Messenger, the wonder-boy of the screen as the peaky kid brother, the screen as the pesky kid brother, and Noll Craig, Tom Kennedy, Harold Goodwin, Lloyd Whitlock, Berth Roach, Edward Hearn, Dorothes Wolbert and William Welsh in other roles, Thursday, Friday and Saturday Priscilla Dean will appear in "The Game of Life."

The Orpheum

"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY," Mary Pickford's new screen version of Grace Miller White's novel, ed today at this theatre for a fou day attraction. In the cast supporting "America's Swootheart," in this second production are Lloyd Hughes and Gloria Hope, man and wife, and this is the first time they have ever played together in the same picture. Mr. Hughes is playing the role created by the lamented Lockwood while Miss Hope has the important part of Teola Graves. This is the first time John S. Robertson ever directed Miss Plek-ford, but his services in this directoral capacity were not obtained until after a second attempt, because he was under contract with Famous Players-Lasky and was obliged to reject the offer with all due reluctance at first. However, when in the accoud attempt Miss Pickford made a request person-ally, Josee Lasky rearranged his production schedule so as to permit hir. Robertson sufficient time to preside over the megaphone until "I'ess of the Storm Country" was completed. In the second place, this is the second time Forrest Robertson has played in support of Miss Pickford, his first appearance with her having been made sight years ago. Moreover, Mr. Robertson was Mr. Robinson's first director. This veteran actor has part of Daddy Skinner in this lates Pickingd trlumph.

Friday and Saturday Elsle Fergie son will be seen in "The Outcast."

Unloatown is having a toom backed by the Elks and Scottdale is getting ready for its second season. Neither of those beams is yet on the Coker schedule, which includes only the best clubs this season and none of the barbor shop "specials" which managed to squeeze in last year.

ED WALSH DOES WELL AS WHITE SOX COACH

Has Just the Temperament Needed as Gleason's Aid in Teaching Young Stars.

Ed Watsh is making good on his job ns couch of the White Sox. When the Moose returned to his old boss, C. A. Comiskey, this spring, after an absence of ten years, many were the sur-mises as to what the great spitball pitcher of other days would do as aid having been so hard that Johnson sat in his corner to minutes after Joss left the ring.

Fighr critics, however, say Willard could not stand up to either Luli Flypo, who defeated Jack McAuliffe clean but Walsh was smart chough to know that if he made a successful of the large role of coach he would be the force he would be the force to the three of force he would be a successful of the force he would be a single to the force of the second of the force he would be as in the first three three forces he was successful of the force three three forces he was a first three th Firpo, who defeated Jack McAuilffe by knowking him out in the third from him out in the third from him of the champion. The opinion is that Willard could never finish Firpo in order to meet from his firpo in order to meet from his firpo would even be a dangerous foe for Jack. A meeting between Willard and Firpo will probably he arranged.

Seek in the new role of couch he would have to forget how big a factor he was not the diamond lifteen years ago. On May 17, 1922, Perkins went through a 13-inning fray without a fielding chance.
